ITEM	DISCUSSION / RECOMMENDATIONS / MOTIONS	DECISION
1. Call to Order/Quorum	A meeting of the Special Education Advisory Committee was convened at 7:00 pm on Monday, September 21, 2015 in the Board Room, 5050 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario with Steven Lynette presiding as Chair.
2. Approval of Agenda	Motion: Clovis Grant moved that the agenda be approved.	Motion carried.
3. Declaration of Possible Conflicts of Interest	None noted.
4. Confirmation of Minutes	Motion: Paula Boutis moved that the Minutes of the June 1st, 2015 meeting be approved.	Motion carried
5. Presentations/Delegations	Presentations/Delegations/Consultations Guests David Haffner (Chief of Speech-Language Pathology Services – TDSB East Region) and Anne Ricci (TDSB Chief of Occupational/Physiotherapy Services) presented information about the Toronto Region Special Needs Strategy Proposal for Integrated Rehab Services (IRS). The proposal proposes ways of integrating services for occupational therapy, physiotherapy and speech-language pathology. This consultation was in follow-up to last year’s input and advocacy by SEAC with the three Ministries involved. Additional feedback and input is invited in this consultation. The presenters expressed their hope that the proposed model facilitates the kinds of tiered interventions TDSB pilots have found to be effective and efficient, including both consultation and direct assistance. With tiered intervention and depending on goals, group sizes vary between large group, small group and individual interventions for more complex students who have more than one disability (i.e. cognitive delay and physical disability). The focus is on providing interventions tailored to the needs of the child. All of the regional IRS proposals are due at the end of October and roll out would likely be for September 2016.

The presenters encouraged SEAC members and member associations to complete the Family and Stakeholder Survey and spread the word among their family contacts to also do so. The survey is posted at: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/TO_SNS_Feedback

SEAC members gave the following input:

1. There are concerns about any plan that requires staff without professional training to implement rehabilitative recommendations and deliver services – it will be important that there be sufficient funding for schools to have access to an appropriate degree of training to carry out OT/PT or Speech-Language recommendations.
2. It is important that the issue of wait-times be addressed through adequate funding and staffing levels. Wait-times shouldn't depend on where you live or which CCAC is involved.
3. It is important that services be provided in as inclusive and integrated environment as possible.
4. There is understanding that consultative services are important and that direct service is not necessary all the time. Following assessment, there must be time for modelling and working with the student and teacher to develop the skillset, time to practice and reassess progress.
5. Given that there are 5 CCACs working with TDSB and that every CCAC operates differently (with different admission criteria, different forms, etc.), it is important that all 5 come together and try to make services as consistent, effective and efficient as possible.
6. It is important that effective use be made of assistive technology (such as iPad or other kinds of tablets, apps, etc.) at both home and school. Continued focus in this area needs to be facilitated and adequately funded.

A question was raised about TDSB practices around providing continued Speech-Language intervention when an exceptional student moves from an intensive support program (ISP) to an integrated, regular class setting. An example was given in which previous goals related to language development were excluded from a student's IEP when the student moved from an ISP to an integrated setting. The presenters confirmed that it is expected that the language goals would continue to be included in the IEP. For instance, if the student required visual supports for decision making, those would continue regardless of where the student was placed.

The presenters undertook to provide a copy of their presentation notes to SEAC members.

Recognition and welcome was given to the Chair of the Board, Trustee Robin Pilkey, who was in attendance.

6. SEAC Business & Open Discussion	SEAC Priority Setting for 2015-2016 David Lepofsky spoke on behalf of the SEAC Priorities Working Group, speaking to a draft list of priorities and a draft Action Plan for SEAC to consider. While examples are provided in both documents, more can be included. On behalf of the Working Group, he proposed that SEAC discuss and approve the Priority list as a starting point and then discuss and adopt an Action Plan. Discussion on Priorities Members offered the following input during discussion: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Ensure flexibility to adjust SEAC attention when something arises that requires it. 2. Map the priorities in coordination with board priorities, so SEAC can provide timely input and work with the board proactively 3. Parents should know what options are available and what the bottom line is. There is a need for something like a “Rules Book” – a condensed version of information about different exceptionalities – to help parents, teachers and administrators understand what the system offers by way of support. It would be helpful to understand the criteria used for recommendations for placement in intensive support programs. There is a need for simplified explanations, available on line, long before parents are even in school. 4. TDSB needs to make its information more transparent and accessible. For example, the Parent Guide is inaccessible to parents with vision difficulties. 5. Parents need to know Pathways for students in special education. Families want to know what the potential pathway is for different program decisions, and it needs to be in parent friendly language. 6. Move Priority item 2(e) up to Priority 1 since Transition Plans are part of the IEP 7. The Special Education Plan should not limit the focus of SEAC. The focus should be on what is important for families and kids. 8. The issue is transparency and clarity for what the board can do. Parents would like to see a document that helps them understand what services parents can expect the board to typically provide to meet the specific needs of their children. Motions: David Lepofsky That SEAC adopt the statement of four priorities as the current statement of priorities, understanding that changes and additions can be made at any time. All were in favour. That SEAC assume a consensus decision to start with Priority 1, and to review the Special Education Plan to see what it should be, rather than what it is. Given the passage of meeting time and business yet to be done, Chair Steven Lynette suggested that members take away this discussion, to make the decision next meeting. A request was made to post the draft priorities on line. Margo Ratsep undertook to do so.	Motion carried Motion deferred

7. Business Arising	Business Arising from the June Minutes 1. SEAC Code of Conduct Paula Boutis spoke briefly to members, calling their attention to the draft she had emailed.  Trustee Kaplan moved to adopt the SEAC Code of Conduct Paula Boutis undertook to provide a clean copy to Margo for distribution. 2. December Meeting Date Change Discussion revealed that some members would be unable to make the meeting if the date were to change. A decision was made to keep the Monday, December 14th date and defer the organizational meeting to January.	Motion carried December 14th meeting date was confirmed
8. Trustee Reports & Follow-Up on Previous Action Items	Trustee Brown received a copy of Upper Canada District School Board letter to the Minister of Education regarding Special Education funding. The letter outlined the exact funding decrease and expressed the concern that the board will not be able to meet its special education legal obligations. He proposed that at the October meeting SEAC look at TDSB funding numbers with an eye to writing a similar letter. Trustee Brown also commented on the issue of parents not being able to access information readily on line. He has spoken to the Executive superintendent responsible (Roula Anastasakos) and is seeking a change in TDSB procedures to try to facilitate improved public access to information. Trustee Kaplan reported that at the June 17th board meeting the board passed a motion to petition the Ministry to remove the citizenship requirement for membership on SEAC. Trustee Ford reported that TDSB is now multi-lingual on-line – with everything on-line translated. She spoke about recent eye-opening experiences with a friend's accessibility difficulties and her own resulting interest in accessibility issues in the TDSB. In response to questions, Uton Robinson informed the group that Coordinating Superintendent Ian Allison sits on the board's Accessibility Committee, which is chaired by Occupational Health and Safety Manager Chris Broadbent and falls under Associate Director, Angelo Bacopoulos.
9. Reports/Updates from Active SEAC Subcommittees	Accessible Education and Equity Subcommittee Richard Carter reported that this subcommittee was created to advise the school board to make the necessary changes (within the Act) to improve services for students. He invited the participation of David Lepofsky and AODA input and advocacy.
10. Special Education Department Updates	Uton Robinson, Jeff Hainbuch and Ian Allison provided department updates and responded to questions (See Department Update starting on page 7) 9:00 p.m. having been reached, David Lepofsky moved to extend meeting	Motion carried

11. Correspondence	SEAC received the following correspondence: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Application dated 8 June 2015 from Dick Winters for membership as SE Alternate Community Representative 2. Email dated 2 Sept 2105 from Cathy Persons on behalf of the CP-NET organizing committee to extend an invitation to the CP-NET Science & Family Day Open House (Interested parties to contact: http://cpnet.canchild.ca/en/) 3. Uton Robinson – Special Education Department Update

Welcome to the 19th school year of the TDSB. We are excited by the opportunities we will have to support student achievement and wellbeing.

We are happy to introduce and welcome Wendy Banhan and Karen Bradley to the Special Education and Section 23 Department. These two Vice-Principals will be working with Central Coordinating Principal Joy Reiter in Section 23 programs.

The Special Education Plan for this school year has been reviewed by Special Education staff to ensure that concerns and edits are accurate and it will be shared with SEAC members for follow-up consultation at the November SEAC meeting..

The In-School Support Team and School Support Team Manual has been revised and is available on line at:

<http://tdsbweb/site/SpecEdSectionViewItem.asp?siteid=100&pmenuid=150&menuid=155&enableNav=true&manualid=5&SectionId=61>

The contents of this manual provide a consistent process to address the needs of students. It is used by IST/SST teams in support of open discussion of student-related strengths and needs within the context of the local school and supports a tiered approach to planning interventions. The majority of students' needs can be met within the local school through the use of universal design for learning, with a tiered intervention approach and differentiated instruction.

Exploration Classrooms

Each year the Special Education Department tries to offer opportunities for teachers to visit special education programs as a professional learning opportunity. Given the current state of contract negotiations, the timeline this year is to have offerings up and running hopefully by January.

Census Data Students with Special Needs – There is census information available about students with special needs. It would be informative for someone from our research team to present this information. The data has good alignment with some of the mentioned priorities that SEAC is proposing.

Completion of IEPs – one of the directives from ETFO is that teachers will not be updating IEPs by the 30th day deadline (as per the PPM), but will complete them at their own pace during the school day as part of the provincial action. We will provide an update closer to the October 20, 2015 deadline.

Jeff Hainbuch : Secondary Gifted Expansion

In the June minutes, SEAC received information about consultations that were to take place in June at four locations. Invitation was made to 5000 people to attend any of the four consultation meetings located in four regions of the board. These took place, reviewing the placement process for secondary gifted to address equity of access to secondary gifted programs. The intention is to add 4 secondary sites to the existing 6 sites to support equity of access and to address enrolment pressures at Don Mills and Northern. Consultation focused on placement by home address through an IPRC process. Parents will know the projected location for secondary gifted programs and moving forward, a new placement process is planned to be in place for Sept 2016. (Students already in a program will remain to graduation in the current program locations. New sites will offer Grade 9.) Special Education leadership has met with the Toronto School Administrators Association (TSAA), Superintendents of Education, Chiefs of Psychology, and the local feasibility group. A presentation will be made at the October 7th PSSC meeting and is going to board October 28th. A summary of Q&A will be a public document posted shortly.

Ian Allison – Update on the Gifted Screening Process

Ian provided an update to the Gifted Screening Process which was previously introduced and discussed at two SEAC meetings during the 2014-2015 school year. Ian reminded SEAC about the current process where students are considered through teacher and parent nomination, without a pre-screening mechanism. This has resulted in a disproportionate number of students not being identified in some areas of the city while there was a concentration of students identified in other areas. The initial plan was to introduce the new process, using a screening assessment tool for all grade 3 students, in the fall of 2015. A number of issues have since arisen which has delayed the implementation plan. Most notably, the current labour situation has impacted timelines. Given these developments, our department will spend time this year to ensure all steps are in place for fall 2016 implementation. This timeline also aligns with steps taken by our staff supporting Model Schools for Inner Cities, where the annual assessment tool used in the program is being deferred for one year.
