

Toronto District School Board

January 30, 2020

Good Afternoon Parents/Guardians,

We wanted to provide you with a brief update with regards to the coronavirus. The Toronto District School Board continues to take its lead from Toronto Public Health and other public health agencies, which have not advised our schools to take any additional precautions at this time. They also continue to advise that the risk to the public remains low.

The TDSB will continue to keep school communities updated and will promptly advise should any additional precautions become necessary. In the meantime, please visit our website for recent communications, questions and answers and links to important resources such as those from Toronto Public Health, the Ontario Ministry of Health, Health Canada and the Ontario Human Rights Commission.

Thank you.
